

Town Fathers Handle An Immense Amount of Work At Wednesday's Meeting

Precautions Taken Against Sabotage Of Public Utilities—Considerable Graveling To Be Done This Fall—Councillor Watson Believes That Recruits In This Area Should Be Trained Here And Not Sent Out To Edmonton—Between $800 And $900 Of Accounts Passed For Payment.

An immense amount of business was handled by the town fathers at the regular meeting held Wednesday night.

The following accounts were passed for payment: General, $457.06; child welfare, $15; indigent relief, $15; indigent hospital, $5.50; indigent relief, $118; labor, $242.78. Total, $856.34.

The matter of guarding the town's utilities against sabotage was discussed. The Mayor stated that the proper precautions had been taken and would be continued.

Councillor Watson gave it as his opinion that army recruits of this area should be trained here and not sent to Edmonton in small groups. The majority of the councillors agreed with this.

The report of the Provincial Health Inspector was read and received.

The report of the Provincial Building Inspector in regard to the Wapiti Rink was submitted. The report suggested what should be done to make the building perfectly safe. This matter was given over to the public works committee to handle.

Councillor Porteous, chairman of the public works committee, thought that the town should take advantage of the rock crusher which is being operated on the Wapiti south of Grande Prairie and do some graveling.

After discussion it was agreed to gravel from the Imperial Bank corner to the town limits on the streets leading to the municipal hospital and from the Imperial Bank corner to the town limits on the north side.

A petition largely signed by the business men of Grande Prairie, asking that a by-law be passed making Wednesday afternoon a holiday the year round, with the exception of two weeks before Christmas, was tabled until the next meeting.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor and secretary to sign the 21-year lease for the additional land for the airport.

MORE ADULTS KILLED WHEN NOT AT WORK

EDMONTON, Sept. 4.—The question is, "Are more men and women killed in accidents while they are at work or while they are not at work?" The Alberta Safety League's answer, taken from the National Safety Council's 1939 edition of its statistical year book, Accident Facts, just off the press, is that more are killed while they are NOT AT WORK.

Last year 94,000 persons died in accidents. Deaths of employed men and women contributed 37,500 to the total. Of these, only 16,900 were due to work accidents. The remainder, 21,000, resulted from accidents that occurred away from work.

Of the not at work fatalities suffered by employed persons, 13,000 resulted from motor vehicle accidents, 8,000 from non-motor accidents.

GRANDE PRAIRIE MEN RETURN FROM TRIP TO HUDSON HOPE

Dr. Fredette and Mayor Lawlor returned from a motor trip to Hudson Hope Friday last.

Part of the village of Hudson Hope is on Dr. Fredette's homestead, which he still owns.

To The Herald-Tribune reporter the doctor remarked that he scarcely knew the old environments, they had changed so much since eighteen years ago. He further stated that the village is a neat, well-kept hamlet, with good stores and a first-class hotel.

Mayor Lawlor observed that despite the fact that they were bound at the Halfway River for two days on account of rain, and notwithstanding the fact that they had their legs blown down during the night, the trip, taken as a whole, was quite delightful.

P. McCann, East Of Smoky, To Go Out Of Cattle Raising

Will Turn His Attention To Raising Horses—Defies Any Man In The Country To Raise Cattle At Less Than Five Cents—Will Keep One Cow And Milk Goat.

Pat McCann, cattle rancher on the east side of the Smoky, who was a business visitor to Grande Prairie on Friday and Saturday, informed The Herald-Tribune reporter that he is going out of the cattle business and will raise horses.

Pat gave two reasons for his decision. First, that his meadow is overrun with foxglove; second, he defies any man in the country to raise cattle for less than five cents.

He further stated that he will turn off the balance of his herd this fall except one cow, which he will sell with a bull with horns to bear at distance of nine miles when he is in the arms of "Murphy."

Pat will also keep a milk goat. He said that there isn't anything in the world finer for the system than goat's milk, besides it has the effect of creating in one a joyful outlook on life. With goat's milk as part of a man's diet, he sees the doughnut and not the hole," remarked the veteran stockman, who added that he has been in the stock business a good part of his life and he intends to go into the raising of horses on a fairly large scale.

Failed To Locate Gold Area Spotted By Aeroplane

Barney Helgerud of Sexsmith, who was accompanied by Dave Bredin, also of Sexsmith, on a trip to the Herrick Creek in the Monksman Pass, where the pathfinder has rested with a bull with horns to bear at distance of nine miles when he is in the arms of "Murphy."

Helgerud and Bredin made the trip into the pass to meet a party of American mining engineers who were looking for gold.

Helgerud stated to The Herald-Tribune reporter that they failed to find the location, evidently getting into the wrong pass.

The area travelled through was described by Helgerud as a hunter's and fisherman's paradise.

TAKE FISH BOLTS OFF N.A.R. BETWEEN B. L. AND HUALLEN

Sergeant C. H. Clarke of the R.C.M.P. recently investigated a report that 23 fish plate bolts had been taken off the N.A.R. track between Rustie and Beaver Lodge and found the bolts at a farm. Further investigation revealed that the bolts were taken by two boys, each ten years of age. The boys admitted they were guilty and apparently did not realize what damage they might have caused.

They and their parents were given a good talking by Sergeant Clarke.

Pioneer Woman Of G. P. Dist. Called By Grim Reaper

Came To This Country In 1911 And Played Her Part In The Life Of The Community—Lives A Wonderful Christian Life—Many Attends Funeral Services.

On Monday, August 28, another oldtimer of the Grande Prairie district answered the last call when Mrs. Mary South, beloved wife of John M. South, passed peacefully away at her home in Grande Prairie.

The funeral services were held in McLaughlin Baptist Church, Grande Prairie, on Thursday afternoon, August 31. Captain Waller and Mrs. Waller of the Salvation Army, assisted by Rev. T. D. Jones of Christ Church (Anglican), officiating.

Hymns sung were: "Shall We Gather at the River?" and "There is a Fountain Filled with Blood."

Rev. Mr. Jones said: "We have met together this afternoon to pay our respects to one who has been very dear to all of us. Mrs. Mary South, a pioneer woman of this community, a woman of Christian living and of high character."

Referring to death, the speaker said it is a journey that must be made alone. Continuing, Mr. Jones said that he spoke on the authority of the Bible when he said that Mrs. South has passed on to eternal happiness. In poor health for many years, it seemed a load too heavy to bear, and while the parting is deeply regretted, none who had known her for these many years would have her back.

Captain and Mrs. Waller then sang with great expression, "We Shall Know Each Other Better."

H. Vaughan Writes Instruction Booklet On Study Of Music

"On Securing the Greatest Returns from the Money Spent in the Study of Music" is the subject of an interesting folder prepared and issued by H. L. Vaughan, well known musician and teacher.

In this folder Mr. Vaughan quotes reliable statistics which point to the fact that a great deal of money is wasted on music lessons for children who get very little return for it. To explain this fact, some outstanding reasons are given.

A copy of this informative publication will be sent free of charge to anyone desiring it. Requests for copies should be made to H. L. Vaughan, P.O. Box 1807, Grande Prairie.

Calm Prevails Here In Spite Of The War News

The announcement that Britain had declared war on Germany and that Canada would stand solidly behind the mother country was received without any signs of excitement in Grande Prairie and district. The general feeling seems to be: "We don't like this war business, but if we must go to war we must."

Returned men have offered their services, willing to serve in any capacity, and the youth of the land will not be found wanting when the time comes for them to shoulder their great responsibility.

Peace River sent many of its men to the Great War, and in the present crisis the people of this north country, together with the rest of Canada, will not shirk their duty.

Dawson Creek had an entry list of twenty-three, Peace River had seven, and the balance were local members.

Weather and road conditions no doubt prevented many coming from the north side of the Peace.

The course was in splendid shape, but the inclement weather made the fairways heavy and the greens unplayable at certain periods.

The prizes were evenly divided between the three clubs represented at the tournament.

Dawson Creek's entries were: Mrs. G. Bissett, Mrs. Linklater, Mrs. Newby, Mrs. W. O. Harper, Mrs. B. Harper, Miss P. Fynn, J. Linklater, D. Linklater, W. Johnson, D. Hancock, G. Stewart, B. In the junior competition there were only six contestants. Jack Linklater of Dawson defeated Jack Edwards of Grande Prairie in the final.

Presentation of Prizes

In the absence of President Harry Archibald and Dr. L. J. O'Brien, who were unable to be present at the time, A. E. Galway, secretary of Richmond Hill Golf and Country Club, presented the prizes. He was assisted by C. C. Fleming, who had said he hoped all visitors had had an enjoyable time, although the weather was very disagreeable at times. Several mistakes had been made, he said, but none of them intentional by any means.

Final Championship Game

Quite a large gallery followed the final game in the men's championship flight between Bob Ford of Dawson Creek and George Duncan of Grande Prairie, and increased in number as the match got down to the last nine holes on Richmond Hill golf course last Monday.

First Eighteen Holes

Ford took the first hole with a birdie against a par. Duncan came back and evened up with a 4 against a 5. The next four holes were halved. Duncan picked up on the seventh, getting in trouble with his drive, making Ford one up.

On the eighth Ford got a beautiful drive right down the centre and Duncan pulled his deep in the rough and played a provisional shot. This looked like Ford's hole. Duncan decided to look for his first ball and found it playable, but with heavy willow in line with the pin. Duncan made a wonderful recovery but found himself still in the rough over the green. Ford was short with his second but was inside of his opponent. Duncan again made a spectacular shot and was jumpy about three feet from the cup. Ford played his third, but just got on the sand and missed his ball and Duncan sank his, making the match a square coming home. Both got pars on the ninth.

The 10th was halved. Duncan conceded and picked up on the green at the 11th, making Ford one up.

At the 12th Ford was short to the right of the green and Duncan was on the green. Duncan was pitched dead for a par, but Duncan stepped up and sank his for a birdie, squaring the match.

Consolation was inside Ford on the 13th green with his third. Ford sunk his for a par, but Duncan's ball hit a soft spot and rimmed the cup, making him one down again. Fourteenth and 15th were halved with par fours. Ford took the 16th and 17th with par fours and five, making him three up. Duncan seemed to be getting in trouble with his drives, but came back on the 18th with a birdie four, sinking his chip from the edge of the green, and got a big hand from the gallery. This made Duncan two down.

Ford never was off the fairway in the eighteen holes and was driving 230 on an average, and his iron work was pretty to watch. He worked just like a machine.

Consolation, on the other hand was getting into lots of trouble, but made spectacular shots at opportune time. He was dreading around the greens and was wanting more confidence than his opponent (who is used to grass greens).

Second Eighteen Holes

After a light lunch, the players were notified to commence play as soon as possible as rain was threatening. As they teed off it started to drizzle.

The 19th was halved with par fours. Duncan got in the rough with (Continued on Page Eight)

Low Qualifying Round Won By G. A. Duncan

The lowest qualifying rounds up to Saturday noon were returned by Gordon Orr and A. R. McMillan, played earlier in the week: Orr an 83 and McMillan an 85.

On Saturday afternoon a match was arranged between Bob Ford of Dawson Creek and "Chuck" Clark of Peace River against Larry Cobb and George Duncan, members of Richmond Hill Golf Club. All four players were qualifying for the championship flight.

The latter two returned the two low cards for the match, Duncan stroking his way around in 78 and Cobb taking three more strokes. His score clinched the low qualifying round for Duncan.

Taking into consideration the state of the greens and the fairways heavy, it rained practically all day and during the 18 holes, there was some sparkling golf played during the match. Here are the cards: "Chuck" Clark, 43 and 44—87; Larry Cobb, 40 and 41—81; George Duncan, 41 and 37—78.

STRIP ON SOUTH BANK OF

WAPITI RIVER SHOULD BE

RESERVED FOR PARK

There is a general opinion that the strip of land on the south bank of the Wapiti River near the ferry south of Grande Prairie should be reserved for a park. Heavily wooded, the spot is delightful and makes an ideal camping ground.

Now that the road to the river is being gravelled, this sylvan spot by the river will grow in popularity and if the land is set aside for park purposes the time is not far distant when the banks of the Wapiti south of Grande Prairie will be dotted with cabins.

There are many beautiful areas

along our northern rivers, but none more attractive than this strip of land. It is the time to act, before the splendid trees, in many cases for no apparent reason. The result would be that many millions were made, while our men were fighting for a dollar-a-day job.

The Dominion government evidently is determined that there shall not be a duplication of the profiteering system which obtained during that timid struggle. From the moment that Canada declares war and joins the present fray, war profiteering should be severely dealt with.

Creation of the board will be approved by the great masses of the Canadian people who are insisting that wealth be conserved.

NATIONALIZATION

OF HEALTH

Interviewed by The Herald-

Tribune last week, Dr. G. M. Weir,

Minister of Education and Health for British Columbia, declared "Health is the corner stone of national well-being." No truer words than these were ever uttered.

The educational policies of the various governments today are directed along lines that will give every child,

no matter where he or she lives, an opportunity of an education. Surely the health of the nation is just as important as education.

Through the travelling clinics a start has been made in Alberta in providing health facilities for those who are unable to pay for such services. The number who attended these clinics at the various points indicated that the service is far from adequate.

Hundreds of boys and girls need dental work, and the family not having sufficient funds such children

having bad teeth. Many need medical attention who cannot afford to get it at the right time.

Some reader may ask: "Where is the money to come from to nationalize the health of the country?" The answer to that question is taxation.

But what wonderful returns such an expenditure would yield! Today doctors are called upon to render services for which they are well paid. Under the nationalization idea they should receive the remuneration coming to them. The medical profession should not be asked to pay for nothing any more than any other section of society.

A farmer worthy of the name sees to it that his stock is placed in healthful environment, and if one of his animals shows signs of sickness

he immediately gives it the proper attention. Surely a human being is more important than an animal.

The greatest asset a boy or girl can have is good health. Without it, he or she is found to be a dismal failure in life. With our vast resources there is no logical reason why adequate medical services cannot be rendered society. In establishing the travelling clinics the government of Alberta has made a good start, though the service is yet far from being complete.

Health being the very basis of national success, the time has arrived when the nation should recognize this principle and move to give the people adequate medical service.

DIDN'T NEED ANY TRAINING

On Friday last I sat in with a group of men for the army age.

Of course the topic was war.

One of the group observed that in Europe they were taking the old boys and putting them in the rifle squads. Of course this announcement didn't sound so hot.

The conversation then changed to the training of men for the army.

Said one: "I was reading that the old system of training is being materially altered."

Then up spoke another: "Just give me a couple of months of rum, and

I don't need any training."

"How fortunate, Mr. Brown! At last I find you alone!"

Dad's Notions

By E. S. Stanley

It was 40° below zero with a breeze. Two inexperienced freighters were far from the friendly shelter of spruce trees when they were forced to rest their teams.

Selecting a spot of thick willows,

they made a fire but it went black and would not blaze.

From nowhere an Indian stood and greeted them with a grunt, a remark,

"Mistakee Kisen" (very good).

Taking his hat, which he had toque, he fanned the coals into a sickly flame then disappeared.

Shortly he returned with birch bark and some dry spruce limbs from somewhere and the fire burned.

Even the dead willow limbs then burned well, and the freighters' lot was turned into comparative comfort.

There are tens of thousands in this Dominion who, inexperienced, are making their one trip of life and whose fires have gone black while the world's frigid breezes are concealing their blood.

Lacking the compassion of the Indian, we merely remark as to their unfortunate state, and—though it is in our power to turn their dying enemy of aptitude and skill into flame

—we behold the scene unmoved.

These hapless souls are not strangers but our children. More they are the nation's children, and the character of these children today represents what the character of the nation will be tomorrow—yet there is nothing done about it.

In a monstrous ritual we sacrifice offerings (give them food to believe), give much lip-service, and mark time. Without a qualm, we fiendishly throw these—our own children—upon the consuming

pyre (the rust of ill-health) before

His Majesty, the God of Insatiable

Greed.

Because there is no certainty of profit for the lords of finance, and because there is no guarantee of interest to the money-changers, this human sacrifice is not considered.

Call God of Heaven to witness!

Here is a nation unsurpassed for natural resources (awaiting human power to turn them into wealth)— nation with space for 100 millions of happy homes—a nation that can be self-contained, if necessary;—yet in our power to turn them into half-clothed, whose characters are yet to rot, are charitably (?) fed to do before our eyes.

What a commentary on the intelligence of a nation! What a shame ship of state! When will our leaders awake and place the welfare of the nation and its people ahead of the private fortunes? When will they make the sacrifices of youthful lives and souls supreme?

Timely Hints From the Beaverlodge Sub-Station

By W. D. Albright

"IT IS A PLEASURE AS WELL AS A DUTY TO SERVE"

How glad "the glads" looked after the rain!

Observe how the tree leaves color prematurely on dry and bound locations.

Sheaf butts turn water if sloping outwards—no wet soil if they dip inwards.

In showery weather it pays to set up down sheaves without delay. They dry out best if paired at the south ends of the stacks.

Squash and pumpkin keep best if handled to avoid bruising and stored in a dry place at not too low a temperature.

Potato digging will soon be upon us. If potatoes were handled more like apples and less like gravel they would keep better.

"Steady under fire" is a British tradition. Let us carry that principle throughout all our effort.

Cutworm moths have again been in evidence this summer, though definitely less numerous caught in the Substation's moth trap than in 1938.

Before the garden crop is stored in the cellar the bins should be well cleaned, well aired and disinfected. Lime is a good thing to sprinkle around it.

Dahlias are again blooming well. As usual the Colness Gem bedding dahlias are earliest, are the most reliable and are quite pleasing, even if less impressive than the pompon and decorative types.

It is usually advised to pack celery with the roots bedded in sand, but in 1938 the Substation had nearly as good success in crates partitioned to prevent any bunch touching any other. The trial will be repeated ere conclusions are drawn.

During the World War, when European supplies of root and vegetable seeds were cut off or available in reduced volume (if we remember correctly), it became necessary to encourage Canadian production. As a precaution it might be well this autumn to save all the home-grown flower and vegetable seeds possible.

Again Timely Hints are written in the shadow of war clouds, which seem more menacing than ever. If there be no thought anywhere of profiteering but may all, whether at home or abroad, bend every effort to preserve the liberties of civilization. How priceless those liberties are we might only realize after they were lost. The Sudeten refugees know something about it.

C. E. Gardiner, who lived for a time in the Liard Valley and now, after a trip to the Old Country, is employee on Mackenzie River Transport, writes under date of August 6 from a point close to the Arctic coast and twenty miles or so from Tuktoyaktuk. On the way down river he found W. J. McNeely growing tomatoes near Arctic Red River. At the Government Reindeer Station, Superintendent J. A. Parsons was successfully growing tomatoes—by what steps, unstated.

Whereas in parts of the prairies this year wheat stands with straw enough for forty bushels per acre are turning out five or ten bushels of shrunken kernels grading 5, 6, or Feed, the moderate growth in the Peace is threatening remarkably well according to the straw. Once again the importance of July precipitation in the making of a grain crop has been demonstrated. At Beaverlodge, July is the month with slightly the heaviest average precipitation of the twelve, and in 1939 it lived well up to its record.

Midge Adults of Blood Worms
Small insects per specimens enclosed were found troublesome in the house.—H.G. Dawson Creek, B.C.
Ans.: The insects found in such numbers are a species of midge which has been attracted to the house by light. They are the adults of blood worms, which live exclusively in water such as stagnant sloughs. In so far as known, the adults do no damage whatever.

Seeding Mixture for Low Land
I am going to put a mixture of bromo and timothy on low meadow land this fall. Please say what mixture per acre is best.—A. Dawson Creek, B.C.
Ans.: If definitely resolved to try fall seeding, try 2 pounds timothy and 3 or 4 of bromo, or 2 1/2 pounds timothy and 7 or 8 of bromo.

and died out. Would this land be suitable for an annual pasture for a flock of sheep to put the finishing touch on lambs in the fall? I would prefer something that has no tendency to cause bloat. When would it be best to seed?—V.B. Tofield, Alta.

Ans.: Red top 10 pounds and alsike clover 5 pounds might have a chance of surviving the inundation. As a non-bloat-producing annual pasture a mixture of oats and winter rye is suggested. Were it not for the bloat danger we should say rape. Lacombe censors in the suggestions, though two other authorities would take chances on the rape. Prof. J. P. Sackville of the University of Alberta would broadcast rape at 5 pounds per acre, together with about three-quarters bushel of fall rye, claiming that under normal conditions this crop should be ready for pasturing 5 or 6 weeks after sowing, the rye also giving some early spring pasture, unless there were severe flooding, in which case the rye would avail little. Possibly the drainage could be improved with advantage. At the University rape has given very little trouble with bloat, though there is something to be gained by allowing the lambs access to some other pasture adjoining the rape field.

Major S. G. Freeborn also upholds rape as a sheep pasture, remarking that some sheepmen who used to have trouble with bloat on rape pasture are now able to handle it successfully by filling the sheep up with grass pasture or hay before they go on the rape. If corralling them at night, they give half a bellful of hay in the morning before they go back to the rape. The very interesting experience on this point of John Wilson, Jr., of Innisfail, Alberta, is convincing evidence that rape can be safely pastured by sheep.

ASSIST FARMERS BUY FEEDER LIVE STOCK

Effective from September 1 to December 31, 1939, inclusive, a Feeder Purchase Policy, similar to that which was in effect in the fall of 1938 has been authorized by Hon. James G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture. There are three editions of this policy—one each for eastern Canada, the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia, respectively, and each edition contains the same specified time, and has been promulgated so that farmers may be assisted to make personal selection of feeder stock of cattle and sheep in western Canada; also in the case of the Prairie Provinces to encourage the winter feeding of young cattle and lambs in the districts where feed is available.

The policy provides for the refund of the one-way travelling expenses of farmers, or agents of farmers, who purchase certain classes of stock for feeding purposes, subject to the stipulated conditions. In the case of farmers of eastern Canada, from points east of Manitoba, the policy will apply on feeder cattle purchased at the Saskatoon Feeder Sale on October 5 and 6; feeder cattle, lambs and breeding ewes at the Moose Jaw Sale on October 10, 11, 12 and 13; feeder cattle, lambs and breeding ewes purchased at any country point on the prairies; and feeder cattle and lambs (but not breeding ewes) purchased at the stockyards. Stockyard purchases must pass inspection as to type and quality by the stockyard representative of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Farmers from the Prairie Provinces may purchase feeder cattle at the Saskatoon Feeder Sale on October 5 and 6; feeder cattle at Williams Lake Feeder Sale on October 19; feeder cattle from range herds in the interior of British Columbia; feeder cattle, feeder lambs or breeding ewes at Moose Jaw Feeder Sale on October 10, 11, 12 and 13; or purchased at a country point in Alberta or Saskatchewan; on feeder cattle or feeder lambs purchased at any stockyard in Alberta and Saskatchewan; on feeder cattle purchased at Saskatoon Feeder Sale on October 5 and 6; on feeder cattle purchased at Williams Lake Feeder Sale on October 19, and on feeder cattle purchased from a range herd in the interior of the province of British Columbia.

Information respecting stock listed for sale at country points, as well as particulars regarding the terms of policy, may be obtained through the agents of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, at the various stockyards, or from the office of the Production Service, 409 Public Building, Calgary, Alberta, or from the Director, Production Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Information as to feeder lambs and breeding ewes for sale at country points will be available through the Secretary, Southern Saskatchewan Wool Growers' Association, Maple Creek, Sask., or the Secretary, Southern Alberta Sheep Breeders' Association, 1221 2nd Avenue South, Lethbridge, Alberta.

"You can't have it!" said his mother. "Haven't I said 'No!' six times already?"
"All right," murmured the angel child. "But I wonder where dad gets the idea that you're always changing your mind."

CHINA'S BANK NOTES

Great Britain Now Printing 1,000,000,000

Two British printers of bank notes are now carrying out contracts, given to them by the Government Central Bank of China, for printing 1,000,000,000 notes. Neither the exact total nor the value of the notes can be divulged.

Four hundred extra heads have been engaged to cope with one of the contracts, which will take a further year to complete; the other has already been completed.

The original plates are to be kept in Great Britain and the notes themselves will go to China by various routes.

There are only but few bank note printers, other than government factories, in the world, and other orders for bank notes are now being carried through in England for Costa Rica, Salvador, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, Persia, Siam and Switzerland.

WORLD GIRL OF COTTON

Lancashire Could Make 80 Rings Round The Equator

MANCHESTER, Aug. 11.—Lancashire's production of cotton cloth is now so extensive that it would stretch eight times the distance between the earth and the moon, according to the latest figures which have just been published. The total output of piece-goods made for sale during 1937 was 3,378,175,000 linear yards, the equivalent of slightly over 3,000,000,000 metres.

The figures are only now available because there is necessarily a time lag between the production of cloth and its sale. If production from all sources can be worked out, they are difficult to appreciate, but it may be stated that the yardage of piece-goods of Lancashire in 1937 for the year was sufficient to provide a belt of cloth approximately 40 inches in width which would extend 80 times round the earth.

These figures refer to the goods made by the cloth manufacturers for sale. In addition there is the yardage of cloth made on commission which would provide another belt, not quite so wide, but sufficient to encircle the earth once again.

The clearest idea of all, however, can be gained from the realization that the cotton cloth production of this country is sufficient to provide every living soul on earth (according to 1931 estimates) with two yards each. If the goods were confined to the British Empire the provision would be eight yards each.

In 1937 Lancashire cotton weavers had £29,037,000 for their raw materials (primarily cotton yarn) and produced goods to the gross value of £84,500,000.

The average net output of the 173,595 persons employed was £142, and this compares with £123 in 1935. This last point may be said successfully to refute any talk of Lancashire's loss of efficiency.

As many as 50,000 acorns may be stored in the bark of a tree where woodpeckers dig out their food supplies.

PLAN MOTORCARRS FOR ROAD OPENING

Opening of the Jasper-Lake Louise scenic highway next year is to be marked by fitting ceremonies, according to tentative plans advanced by the Edmonton branch of the Alberta Motor Association.

In all probability the official opening will take place during June, 1940. One of the proposed features will be motorcades which, starting from Edmonton and Calgary, would meet at a selected junction point on the new highway.

Cutting of a ribbon, which would mark the joining of the northern and southern sections of the new highway, by the Minister of Mines and Natural Resources, Hon. T. A. Cresser, also is proposed.

Already plans for the official opening are being discussed with officials of the Dominion Parks Department, other scenic route being a park-to-park road lying under Dominion jurisdiction.

Presidents of the American and Canadian Automobile Associations, representatives of the Dominion and provincial governments, motor club authorities from the various provinces and western states also would be invited to take part in the program.

A sanction also is being given to the probable early opening of the Big Bend section of the Trans-Canada Highway between Golden and Revelstoke, B.C. This is another important event which is expected will be fittingly observed in Alberta and the coast province.

MOTORING ON COAL GAS

New Engine Which Does Away With Gasoline

British members of parliament are shortly to be shown new types of motor car engines driven by high-compression coal gas which, it is claimed, operate as efficiently as engines driven by either oil or gasoline.

Evolved at the National Gas and Oil Engine Company's works at Ashton-under-Lyne, England, it is believed that the new engines may well revolutionize the fuel aspect of road transport.

The importance of the development in the event of war, when supplies of oil fuel may be precarious, is realized in government circles, where a keen interest in the new engines is being shown. A scheme for rationing gasoline in war time was announced.

Already the United Kingdom Gas Corporation is investigating the possibility of sending up gas-filling stations in various parts of the country. These will refuel gas-driven lorries and gas-driven motor vehicles from cylinders containing compressed gas or from gas compressors, on precisely the same principle as that used in putting air into tires. The whole operation occupies only a few seconds.

The supposition that old people who drive automobiles create a traffic hazard isn't borne out by the report from England that approximately half the motorists involved in fatal accidents are under 31 years of age.

IMPORTANT WESTERN AREA

The area cradling under the provisions of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act covers approximately 105 million acres of land in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Within this area there are approximately 47,000,000 acres of improved farm land, representing about 55 per cent of the total improved acreage of farm land in Canada. In addition, the area constitutes the most important single agricultural district in the Dominion and one of the major regions of the world for the production of wheat and other cereal crops.

A JOE FOR SHERLOCK HOLMES

Will someone please Sherlock Holmes? Last spring Dave Sutherland, manager of the Northern elevator here, had charge of putting in the demonstration crop, just immediately behind Pool elevator No. 1. To protect this crop from birds and other predatory animals, Dave erected a scarecrow and furnished a pair of overalls to cover its rather extraneous features.

One morning last week, on coming down to his office, Dave noticed that someone had taken the pants away from this work of art. Dave first thought it was the Japanese, who have recently acquired the pleasant habit of taking the pants off people, but this theory was abandoned as being very unlikely, owing to distance. Harry Murray, of Pool No. 1, was under suspicion for a while, but as it was proved beyond doubt that the person who had committed this depredation belonged to the Ancient Order of Zanzibars, this fact cleared him.

Dave, fortunately, has another pair of pants and is going around still clothed within the law.

SCHOOL OPENED SEPTEMBER 4

Sexsmith school opened on Monday, September 4, with a number of new faces present. Mr. Nordin, principal, arrived back from Edmonton on Sunday by car. On Friday's train Miss Muttart and Mr. Blockledge came back, and Miss Keebler, the primary teacher, on Tuesday. This completes the staff.

FOREIGN-LOOKING PLANE HOVERED OVER SEXSMITH

A foreign-looking plane—that is foreign-looking to the inhabitants of Sexsmith—was seen hovering over here on Friday last. Some people were for blowing the fire alarm, figuring that this might possibly be an air raid. However, cooler minds prevailed and this was not done. It was found out afterwards that it was Stan Warren with one of the Peace River Airways machines, who had come over to attend a wedding.

TAKES CHARGE OF LUTHERAN CHURCH

The Rev. T. and Mrs. Nordmark of Fairview, Montana, arrived by car on Monday to take over the charge of the Lutheran Church at Sexsmith, succeeding the Rev. K. A. Knutson, who recently left for Cabri, Sask.

They have taken the house recently occupied by Mr. Ken Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. Hogan of Fairview, Montana, came with them for a short visit.

STANDERWICK-WARREN

In the auditorium of the Peace River Bible Institute, on Friday, September 1, at 3 p.m., many friends witnessed the wedding ceremony of Hattie Ethel Melvin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Warren of Sexsmith, and Richard Carey Standerwick, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Standerwick of Calgary, Alberta.

Entering the auditorium on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, with long flowing lines, with a floor length veil of silk net set in a coronet of orange blossoms. She was preceded by her two bridesmaids, the Misses Jean and Mary Warren, who looked sweet and dainty in floor length dresses of green organdy and pink dotted muslin, respectively. The bride's bouquet was of tea-rose gladioli, the bridesmaids' pink and lavender sweet peas.

The bridegroom, who was attended by Mr. Standerwick Warren, brother of the bride, awaited at the altar, which was banked with sweet peas and other brilliant garden flowers.

Rev. J. Roskam, pastor of McLaurin Baptist Church, Grande Prairie, performed the ceremony. During the signing of the register Mr. Murray

Will Take Care of You," and Rev. Mr. Roskam closed in prayer.

Popularity of the bride was well shown in the display of useful and beautiful gifts.

After a short stay with the bride's parents in Sexsmith, the happy couple will motor to Camrose, Alberta, where the groom will assume pastoral duties of the Baptist Church there. Best wishes and prayers for their future happiness and service follow Mr. and Mrs. Standerwick from their host of friends in the Peace River country.

Guests from out of town included Mrs. Gibbons of Edmonton, aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Berg of Hryther, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester of Albright.

SHOWER FOR MISS WARREN

At the home of Mrs. John Warden, on Thursday, August 24, a surprise shower was given in honor of Miss Hattie Warren, who is being married in Sexsmith on Friday, September 1. The house was very prettily decorated, the color scheme being white and pink. Each guest on entering was handed a pink and white sweet pea.

When the guest of honor arrived with her mother, Mrs. C. H. Warren, she was greeted with the song, "I'm Going To Be Married, Ha, Ha," sung by Miss Viva Warden, with Miss Erma Warden at the piano.

In a short time two very small ladies, Audrey Neys and Marion Johns, brought in the gifts and assisted the bride-elect to open same. Miss Warren gave a very nice "thank you" talk for the presents received.

Mrs. W. W. McNaughton gave a short talk on "What Is Expected of a Bride," and she being a bride herself of only a few months should be well versed on this subject.

Miss Warren's intermediate Sunday school class were there in full force and assisted in serving the lunch. They were the Misses Viola Johnson, Iris Walker, Miss Erma Warden, Dorothy McMillan, Margaret McMillan and Dolly Johns. Others present were Mesdames C. H. Warren, A. Fenton, G. R. Sharp, J. S. Neys, E. Cook, R. N. Shaw, W. W. McNaughton, Lee Warren, I. Miller, Chas. Warden, Miss Evelyn Willis and Miss Viva Warden.

IMPLEMENT DEALERS THANK MR. MACARTHUR

Owing to the big rush last week for replacement parts for farm implements, the dealers found themselves to be running short and wrote Mr. J. M. MacArthur, general manager of the N.A.R., for permission to have some sent in on the passenger train. Mr. MacArthur readily agreed to this, for which the dealers wish to express their appreciation.

ELEVATORS "DOLLING UP"

The Sexsmith elevators are getting "dolled up" for the coming season. The Northern has had a new coat of paint and a new dump. The McDonald Grain Company has had its annex plumb up. Pool No. 2 is now undergoing necessary repairs. The Alberta Pacific got a new pump and the Midland Pacific new buckets. The stockyards also are being repaired, with a few improvements added, which will make it more homelike for the pigs.

THE MYSTERY OF THE FISH BAIT

Last Sunday afternoon a party of Sexsmith people drove out to the Bad Heart near Capt. Blake's place on a hunt for berries.

The night before the two men of the party thought that they might as well combine pleasure with business and decided that a few fish would add to the taste of the lunch, so in giving his Sunday order to the butcher one of the men asked him to send along about a dime's worth of good red bait to be used as bait.

When they all met in town on Sunday just shortly after noon to start on their trip, Bill No. 1 asked Bill No. 2 if he had the fish bait with him, and Bill No. 2 passed the question on to the good wife, explaining the nature of the bait.

Now let it be distinctly understood that this bait which was to be used as fish bait was perfectly good fresh beef, and the "baiter" had not been in on the secret of the fishing trip, was under the impression that it

WILL TAKE CARE OF YOU," AND REV. MR. ROSKAM CLOSED IN PRAYER.

Popularity of the bride was well shown in the display of useful and beautiful gifts.

IMPLEMENT DEALERS THANK MR. MACARTHUR

Owing to the big rush last week for replacement parts for farm implements, the dealers found themselves to be running short and wrote Mr. J. M. MacArthur, general manager of the N.A.R., for permission to have some sent in on the passenger train. Mr. MacArthur readily agreed to this, for which the dealers wish to express their appreciation.

ELEVATORS "DOLLING UP"

The Sexsmith elevators are getting "dolled up" for the coming season. The Northern has had a new coat of paint and a new dump. The McDonald Grain Company has had its annex plumb up. Pool No. 2 is now undergoing necessary repairs. The Alberta Pacific got a new pump and the Midland Pacific new buckets. The stockyards also are being repaired, with a few improvements added, which will make it more homelike for the pigs.

THE MYSTERY OF THE FISH BAIT

Last Sunday afternoon a party of Sexsmith people drove out to the Bad Heart near Capt. Blake's place on a hunt for berries.

The night before the two men of the party thought that they might as well combine pleasure with business and decided that a few fish would add to the taste of the lunch, so in giving his Sunday order to the butcher one of the men asked him to send along about a dime's worth of good red bait to be used as bait.

When they all met in town on Sunday just shortly after noon to start on their trip, Bill No. 1 asked Bill No. 2 if he had the fish bait with him, and Bill No. 2 passed the question on to the good wife, explaining the nature of the bait.

Now let it be distinctly understood that this bait which was to be used as fish bait was perfectly good fresh beef, and the "baiter" had not been in on the secret of the fishing trip, was under the impression that it

COMMUNITY GRIEVED BY THE DEATH OF EILEEN HUNTER

RICHMOND HILL, Sept. 4.—Friends in this district were shocked and grieved to hear of the sudden death, on Friday, August 28, of Eileen Hunter, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hunter of Bezancon.

To us, who knew and loved her, perhaps more than other friends, having had her in our home quite often in her high school days when it was not always possible to go to her own home for week-ends, the shock is a severe one.

Eileen was a joyous, lovable person. She had a keen intellect and an excellent sense of humor and a lively fun-loving disposition. Little did we dream when she entered the hospital that we should never see her or hear her voice again, and we wondered how she would be able to teach school so soon after her operation. Then, like a bolt from the blue, came the word that she was gone—into that great beyond from whence none return.

We were left with only a memory, but there are those of her family, who, too, have only a memory, of 21 years. To them our hearts go out in sympathy. We can only say: Look up to Him Who knows our grief and Who alone is able to comfort and strengthen us when our burdens seem too great to be borne. And we know that He knows what lies ahead and in His great mercy has seen fit to remove Eileen to where there will be no more care, no pain and no tears.

Deep sorrows sometimes prove to be God's masked mercies. In just a little while He will come to answer all our enigmas and to wipe away all tears. We would not wish, then, to wipe away those who had no wish, to wipe away.

"Some day," we say, and turn our eyes toward the fair hills of Paradise. Some day, sometime, a sweet new rest.

Shall blossom, flower like, in each breast; Some day, sometime, our eyes shall see.

Dear faces kept in memory; Some day their hands shall clasp our hands.

Just over in the Morning Land, God grant to her that she may stand close by Him in the Morning Land, And that some day when we have crossed life's sinking sand We all shall see that Morning Land.

WAR DECLARED

RICHMOND HILL, Sept. 3.—Just a minute ago the phone rang and the message that greeted me was, "I suppose you know we are at war."

I wonder to how many millions of mothers, wives, and sweethearts that message came this morning, bringing with it a grief that leaves us cold and numb. Hitler has finally plunged the world into—shall we say—darkness. Hell will more truly express our mood.

Someone has said that God does not know anything about us or He has abandoned us. I wonder how many there are in the world today who do not know God, who take His name only to curse. Why should He neglect a world which He has created? He has taken His greatest gifts and used them for any purpose but the one He intended them for? He gave us the Sabbath day, but surely He has yet to get out through the country and see binders in the fields, threshing machines running, carloads of people being shipped, and His house is empty except for the faithful few.

We need, indeed, to cleanse our hearts, as a nation to turn to Him who created us, and to realize that we live and breathe He will destroy each and everyone who does not believe, but for His elects sake the time will be short.

Is this to be the last war? Time will tell, but in the meantime let us have a united Empire, with each and everyone doing their bit with God's help, praying that right will conquer and His peace reign in each and every heart.

Carlin South is improving after his siege of rheumatic fever.

Mr. J. M. South will make his future home with his daughter, Mrs. F. R. Smith. Mr. South is bearing his grief well.

GO TO G. P. HIGH SCHOOL

Blanche Smith, Lila Mae Roberts, Angelina Cuvel, Gwen Pickles, Donna Owen, Margaret and Francis Griffith all begin high school in Grande Prairie on Tuesday. Grades 10, 11 and 12 will all be represented.

Miss Marie Poppen returns to her school after a most enjoyable holiday spent at outside points.

The recent rains have helped gardens in this district, where as yet there has been no sign of frost. Cucumbers, tomatoes, squash and pumpkin, as well as sweet corn, are a bountiful crop. Let us all try to remember those less fortunate ones who have no garden.

Very Bad

The prison warden was examining a new batch of convicts.

"Here," he said to one of them, "sign your name on this blank."

"Sorry," said the prisoner, shaking his head. "I can't sign it."

The warden was amazed. "Why can't you sign it?"

"Because," answered the prisoner, "I can't write."

"Oh, I see," said the warden. "He reflected a moment. Then: 'What are you here for?'"

"What?" cried the warden. "How could you be convicted of forgery when you can't even write?"

The convict shook his head again. "Well, I think I had a bad lawyer!"

Blueberry Mountain

Children Have Fine Exhibits At Their School Fair

BLUEBERRY MOUNTAIN, Sept. 4.—Blueberry Mountain School Fair held its first exhibition on August 31. Although the first idea of a fair was less than two weeks old, intense interest was developed amongst the youthful exhibitors. The hall was decorated and exhibits planned entirely by the school children, under the direction of the teacher, Miss Coykendall.

Jimmy Lindsay's vegetable exhibit attracted great attention. Conspicuous in his collection was a cabbage that looked like a captive balloon and a beet that would cover an ordinary dinner plate. His highly decorated saddle pony was awarded a first prize.

The judges drew my attention to an excellent composition by Elaine McCormick (Grade V). This young lady also took a first in Class A for flowers, but was sorely disappointed that her well trained and carefully groomed dog only drew second place.

Kenny Mitchell grabbed off three first awards (oats, pressed leaves, and Grade VI Composition) and several other prizes.

Violet Keebler's display of flowers (Class B) attracted special attention, and Shirley Mitchell won two firsts (vegetables and poultry).

Others who won firsts include: Kathleen Grenache (seeds), Lester Keebler (wheat), Dan Maskina (corn), Willie Bort (dog), Herbie Keebler (A) and Billy McCormick (B) for manual handwork. Melba Pegg, Hughie Ellison and Don Maskina won awards for composition in their respective grades.

Another tiny tot proudly showed me some squirrels in "cut-out" work and her pet kitten, Elsie Collins, won two red ribbons indicating two first awards. I may have this name wrong, but I believe it was Beatrice Dezel.

Amongst my jumbled notes, hurriedly taken, I find Marjorie Collins received a red ribbon. But what? It's lost in a mess of bad writing.

Immediately the show was over the children and teacher began planning for next year's show. That's the proper spirit, and I am sure it will be a REAL show.

PEAK OF CIVILIZATION

On Sunday, September 3, Mr. Currie, student missionary of the Presbyterian Church, held a Rally Day service at 11 a.m. Just what a "Rally Day" means I am unable to say, but my attention is drawn to the rally of three million children—carried to leave London. Each carried a gas mask and identification disks. Such is the peak of our civilization.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graham, on August 23, a daughter. To be named Winifred Ann.

Frank Clowes of Calgary has been visiting his sister, Mrs. W. C. Collins. On his return home he was accompanied by his niece, Elsie Collins, who will attend a Calgary school for a term.

Mrs. Walter Mitchell received the announcement of the marriage of Rev. Wilham Ewart and Miss Irene Schieck of Wainwright. The bride taught at Blueberry Mountain school for two years.

Soul Departed

A cobbler christened his establishment "The Shoe Hospital." A customer brought him a pair of shoes which would have disgraced a tramp. "Shouldn't have these mended if I were you," said the cobbler severely. "I would present 'em to the deserving poor." "But I want 'em mended," was the reply. "This is supposed to be a hospital for shoes, isn't it?" "Yes, it's a hospital all right enough," rejoined the repairer, "but it ain't a mortuary."

Fixing Up THE FARM

"I see you're doing a lot of work, Henry, on the old homestead and about the farm. Did you come into a legacy?"

"No sir, I got a Home Improvement Loan from the Bank of Montreal. A simple matter—no fuss or bother. The rates are low, and I'm paying it back by instalments."

CANNIBALS INTO POLICEMEN

This article makes no shocking revelations about policemen stuffing themselves with cannibals, or vice versa, but tells of a social metamorphosis and of the part the aeroplane has played in opening up important gold fields in the mountains of northern New Guinea, where cannibals are now employed as policemen, pump attendants, winch and truck drivers, as described in detail in the Bulletin of the Imperial Institute, South Kensington, London.

The account, drawn from official sources, shows that air transport of heavy machinery, foodstuffs and clothing over the mountainous and tropical country between the port of Lae and the actual gold-bearing properties, situated high above the level, has revolutionized conditions of living in this once primitive country. Today there are 23 storehouses in the gold fields, used regularly or in an emergency, so that an aeroplane in flight is never more than four or five minutes distant from a landing station. The services have been maintained at a level that has remarkable freedom from accident.

Northeast New Guinea, with its 70,000 square miles of territory is divided into three administrative districts of Sepik, Madang and Morobe. Gold occurs in each district and the most important deposits so far discovered are in the Morobe district. These are being worked by large and small operators, who employ some 700 Europeans and over 4,000 natives. A generation ago a large proportion of the natives were cannibals, at the time of their evolution, and their progress under white tutelage has been remarkable. Geographically, the Morobe district consists almost entirely of steeply sloping mountain ranges with the highest reaching altitudes up to 14,000 feet. The valleys and the large streams are covered with tropical vegetation. No roads connect the coast with the interior, though the Commonwealth government, by an Act passed last year, has guaranteed the interest on a loan of £1,500,000 to construct a road from Salamaua on the coast to Wau, for which reconnaissance surveys of four routes have been made, covering distances of 49, 55, 97 and 118 miles.

When Australian prospectors before the war found the Morobe area territory of Papua, circuitous native tracks from village to village were the only means of communication. The Gadagadu track from Salamaua to Wau with native carriers took eight to ten days to cover a distance of 34 miles, due to the fact that it crosses a dozen mountain ranges, ranging in height from 1,500 to 6,700 feet. The chief gold-bearing rivers of the Morobe field are the Bulolo and the Upper Watut, which join to form the Watut River, which in turn joins the Markham River. There are numerous tributaries to each.

Before 1914 Australian prospectors found gold in payable quantities in the Korangra Creek, a tributary of the Upper Bulolo River. After the war, when gold mining was resumed, 20 ounces of gold per day were reported to have been discovered with the aid of a few natives and primitive methods. Other mines followed and found that recovery of less than ten ounces a day was unremunerative owing to high transport cost of necessities.

One miner, C. J. Leveque, conceived the idea of using air transport and large capital, and in 1926 he returned to Australia, where he founded a company to take over his lease.

A pioneer flight was made in 1927 in a De Havilland No. 27 machine by Captain A. E. Mustar from Lae to a landing field roughly prepared by Leveque in the neighborhood of Wau.

This showed that the transport problem, both for plant and personnel, could be solved by using aircraft. Soon afterwards Captain Mustar, with a new all-metal plane, made 67 trips in five weeks and carried, in addition to passengers, 52 tons of goods to the gold fields.

The formation of aircraft operating companies soon attracted more prospectors, and more finance companies, the latter including groups in British Columbia, South Africa, and the United Kingdom. Today three aircraft companies, with over 30 machines, are carrying services not only between Lae and Salamaua and the interior but also between Wau and Port Moresby in Papua Territory. In May last year a service was started between Sydney and Rabaul.

Of the townships that have sprung up in the Morobe field, Wau, the largest, is the headquarters of the local mining administrative staff, including the warden, the district mines, a survey and drafting party and two geologists. In the town there are stores, two hotels, a club, a European hospital, electric light and power, motor cars and trucks, and live stock, including draught oxen, all due to the opening up of the country by air transport, for as yet there are no roads from the coast. The small townships of Bulolo and Bulwa, similarly equipped, were laid out by a dredging company for their employees. Gardens near the towns provide an ample supply of fresh vegetables. Motor roads have been made in the interior, including one from Wau to Salamaua, a distance of about 31 miles, which crosses the Bulolo twice by steel bridges.

BREATHING OF APPLES
STUDIED FOR STORAGE

No one may have seen lungs in apples or pears or have seen them breathe. Nevertheless they do. For nearly five years the Horticultural Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, has been making an extensive study of the breathing of apples, and the result is that by a process known as gas storage it is possible to add fully 50 per cent to the storage life of fruit.

The research work has been carried on by W. R. Phillips, assistant in the Central Experimental Farm, under the direction of M. B. Davis, Dominion Horticulturist, and owes its origin to the fact that fruit is living material even after it is picked. It has reserved energy and the more this energy can be conserved the longer the fruit will last or keep. In their breathing, as in nearly all forms of life, apples take in oxygen and give off carbon dioxide in the process of respiration. It has been found that if carbon dioxide is allowed to accumulate within and around the fruit, a preservative effect is produced. So, by storing the fruit in a gas tight room, carbon dioxide accumulates and the oxygen is reduced. It is this increased carbon dioxide and less oxygen that aids in the storage life of fruit. It is not, however, just as simple as it sounds. There are a multiplicity of factors to which take time and much patient concentration on the part of the research worker. As an example, if the accumulated carbon dioxide exceeds a certain concentration, the fruit will suffocate and die by what is termed "physiological disease." Under ordinary cold storage, apples and other fruits are stored in a temperature of 32 degrees Fahrenheit. At this temperature it has been found that McIntosh apples develop a disease termed Core Flush, which soon completely spoils the fruit. Under gas storage at a temperature of 29 degrees Fahrenheit with about 70 per cent carbon dioxide and 14 per cent oxygen, the fruit can be kept 50 per cent longer, at a given temperature, without core flush developing and the fruit will retain its normal appearance. The economic advantage, therefore, to the fruit producer and to the consumer is obvious.

While gas storage of fruits has advanced to an encouraging point in England, it has not yet been tried out commercially in Canada, but a successful have the experiments carried out at the Central Experimental Farm in Ottawa. The fruit is stored in a specially constructed building to be privately operated by the Horticultural Division.

When gas storage of fruit becomes fairly general it will mean that the storage of Bartlett pears, for example, can be extended for several months, and will retain all their lusciousness at the end of this period. Similar conditions may apply to other fruits and even vegetables.

TESTED RECIPES

FURTHER PEACH DELICACIES

With a bumper crop of exceptionally fine quality peaches this season in Canada, the following recipes may be found to be of particular interest. Peaches for cooking should be peeled just before using, as exposure to the air darkens the fruit.

Peach Pie
2 cups sifted flour,
1 cup shortening,
3/4 teaspoon salt,
4-6 tablespoons cold water.
Sift flour and salt. Cut in shortening, using a pastry blender or two knives, until the crumbs are about the size of beans. Sprinkle a little water over one portion and mix to a dough. Add water to second portion. When all is blended, roll to 1/4-inch thickness. This method prevents the addition of too much water.

Peel 6 large peaches and arrange in a casserole. If preferred, they may be halved and the stone removed. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup granulated sugar and pour 1/2 cup water over. Cover closely and bake 1/2 hour. Serve hot or cold.

Old Fashioned Cup Pudding
Batter—
1/4 cup shortening,
2/3 cup brown sugar,
1 egg,
3/4 cup milk,
1/2 cup flour,
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder.

Cream shortening. Add sugar, Blend well. Then add egg and beat mixture until light. Sift flour with baking powder and add a little at a time alternately with a little milk. Fill large moulds or cups half full with sliced peaches. Add 1 tablespoon granulated sugar to each mould. Pour batter over until cups are three-quarters full. Steam 1/2 hour. Turn out to serve.

Peach Ginger Shortcake
1/4 cup butter,
1 egg,
1/2 cup sour milk,
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger,
1/4 cups flour,
1/4 cup brown sugar,
1/2 cup molasses,
1/2 teaspoon soda and
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon,
1 teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar, add egg and beat well. Add molasses, then sour milk, to which soda, ginger and cinnamon have been added. Mix well, then add flour and baking powder sifted together. Bake in a greased pan 50 minutes in a slow oven (325 degrees F.). Split while hot and pile with sliced sugared peaches generously on top. Whipped cream may be served if desired.

Behoooves Everyone
To Do His Best In
Country's Cause

Dear Fellow Citizens: The suspense is over. Britain and France are redeeming their pledges to Poland. For a few days prior to the declaration of war, the strain was terrible. Some of us feared Prime Minister Chamberlain would give way. I, for one, could scarcely contain myself as word came of sessions, conferences, notes, appeals and ultimatums involving delays hour after hour while Hitler's troops were smashing through Poland without even the formality of a declaration of war. It looked like disaster for the Empire and the world.

In the midst of this travail the only comfort was when God spoke saying he would be managing even through the darkest of days. We should not fall back on that assurance more than once but on the strength of it, in the face of the two nights before the break.

When, on Sunday morning, radio brought news of the fateful break, I felt grave enough, as we all did, but nevertheless, relieved and utterly resolved. I expect the people of the Empire and of France will feel the same way and that Chamberlain and Hitler is to experience an impact of the Empire and the world. The delay in action has at least served to focus Empire opinion and the final definite action must surely follow the forces of right-thinking people everywhere.

In the struggle now before us, it behooves every one to do his best, whether at home or abroad. All thought of self-seeking, profit-making and aggrandizement must be laid out of the question. We are waging a war for life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The war is never lost and never will be so long as the human being remains unshaken.

It is often said that war never settles anything and that the last war was lost by all parties. I cannot subscribe to that view. While the World War entailed a vast evil, as all wars do, it stemmed the onslaught of ruthless tyranny that began by scrapping a treaty with Belgium and proceeded to poison gas, the Lusitania crime and other horrors. History repeats. The present war is for the same ends. If it is over, may we not repeat the mistake of assuming that a benevolent but impotent League of Nations can guarantee against further aggression. A war for conquest is inexcusable. Defense is another matter. If a madman or a bandit were at large in our community, we should round him up in the common interest even though it risked brave men's lives. Such madness and generosity will long be remembered and greatly appreciated.

THANKS
I take this opportunity to thank Mr. H. Parkhill, Mr. D. Macpherson, Mr. M. Pollock, Mr. F. Turner and Mr. J. Lindsay for cutting my crop, and also thanks to Mr. E. Kline, who risked his life for me. May God bless them.

TURKEY RED WINTER WHEAT
YIELDED 45 BUSHELS TO ACRE

Norman Talbot, accompanied by Fred Smith of Kleskun Lake, who was a visitor in Grande Prairie on Friday of last week, are the owners of a 25-acre Turkey Red winter wheat field at the farm of Mrs. Gladys Klich, which was graded No. 1. Mr. Talbot stated that the principal reason he grows winter wheat is that it beats the warm and besides it is a good yielder.

"I seeded one hundred acres of winter wheat last year," he said, "and went on to say that this year he seeded 10 acres of Olla barley, from which he got 246 bushels, adding that it is a splendid sample for malting."

THIS WEEK:
Thurs., Fri., Sat., Sept. 7, 8, 9
Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche in "MIDNIGHT," with John Barrymore, Francis Lederer, and Mary Astor.

DOUBLE FEATURE AT CAPITOL
Next Monday Tuesday, Wednesday, at the Capitol Theatre, there will be a double feature program.

"Close Shave," the Columbia picture, has been heralded as, in the racketeer vernacular, a "sleeper." It is a picture about a sleeper is a horse, nag or goat that comes suddenly out of obscurity to become a winner. In the Hollywood version, it is a picture about a horse named Suez, which exceeded the expectations of the producers. Such a film is "Come Closer," which is supposed to be an especially funny comedy. Jimmy Dunn enacts the starring role. He is supported by Marian Marsh, Wynne Gibson and George McKay. In addition the cast includes Herman Bing and Gene Lockhart.

"Smash the Racketeer" is the other half of the double feature. This picture vividly discloses how a determined prosecutor works with a determined jury to break the stranglehold that a ruthless bank of racketeers have on a great city. Chester Morris, Frances Mercer, Rita Johnson and Bruce Cabot are cast in the top roles.

"SUEZ" OFFERS FILM MIRACLE
When the savage black smooch roars in from the Sahara to provide a climax, the exciting power for "Suez," audiences at the Capitol Theatre will witness a spectacle and experience an emotion the screen has never been able to capture before.

Twisting, torturing, destroying—the death of the desert is one of the production miracles of the spectacular story of Ferdinand de Lesseps and the building of the great canal that has become the jugular vein of the world.

Tyrone Power interprets the flaming heroic role of the canal-builder, sharing stellar honors with Loretta Young and Annabella.

MEADOW FLOODED AND WOLVES
WORRYING STOCK

Mr. Ed. Housh, of Stukley Lake, tells of his hay floating down stream and water over a large portion of his meadow. Being on the river flat, yesterday's rain will make it that much worse. He also reports wolves worrying stock in that locality. We know for certain that wolf cubs were raised east of the town this spring, their howling and tracks being noted by more than one moralist. At between 12 and 20 watering holes where moose are wont to drink only one moose or deer track was observed. The country overrun with bears, and wolves getting prevalent, no moose or deer have time to get to the water. It is believed by many that bears consistently eat raspberries, which is not the case as a rule. This year it has been observed that bears have been partaking of that species of berry.

School, which was to open on August 28, failed to do so owing to the fact that the teacher did not arrive, so will now open on September 5 instead. Some pupils leaving, others starting, so we surmise attendance will be about the same.

CLAIRMONT NEWS

NEIGHBORS HELP WIDOW
HARVEST HER CROP

CLAIRMONT, Aug. 29.—Good deeds and neighborliness are still in evidence, as was witnessed last week at the farm of Gladys Klich, a widow with three small children, when six of her neighbors cut and stacked her last year's seventy-eight acres, she being without a binder and having not enough horses. Such kindness and generosity will long be remembered and greatly appreciated.

"Smash the Racketeer" is the other half of the double feature. This picture vividly discloses how a determined prosecutor works with a determined jury to break the stranglehold that a ruthless bank of racketeers have on a great city. Chester Morris, Frances Mercer, Rita Johnson and Bruce Cabot are cast in the top roles.

"SUEZ" OFFERS FILM MIRACLE
When the savage black smooch roars in from the Sahara to provide a climax, the exciting power for "Suez," audiences at the Capitol Theatre will witness a spectacle and experience an emotion the screen has never been able to capture before.

Twisting, torturing, destroying—the death of the desert is one of the production miracles of the spectacular story of Ferdinand de Lesseps and the building of the great canal that has become the jugular vein of the world.

Tyrone Power interprets the flaming heroic role of the canal-builder, sharing stellar honors with Loretta Young and Annabella.

Salmer's Supply
Store Burned
To Ground

HYTHE, Sept. 5.—A fire of unknown origin which started shortly before 2 a.m. Monday morning completely demolished the Salmer's Supply Store.

The fire was first noticed by a nearby resident, but had already too much headway for equipment at hand to control. The fire brigade and volunteers did their utmost to save the building, but when it was found impossible they set to work to save nearby buildings.

Rain during the night and little wind helped save buildings on both sides.

Mr. Walter Salmer, owner of the store, was away on the week-end, arriving back on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Ted Mar, who has been sick for sometime in residence at Municipal Hospital, returned last Friday feeling much better.

Mrs. Spence has her father and mother, from Maidstone, visiting with her at present.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Fleming and son left last Friday for Camrose, Alberta, after a visit with his parents at Valhalla. Rev. Mr. Fleming is a returned missionary from China and has been holding meetings in various places.

Mrs. Harry Hooser was rushed to the hospital last Saturday morning and was operated on for appendicitis.

Rev. J. H. Stark, left on Tuesday's train for Sexsmith to attend a meeting of United Church ministers.

ELMWORTH NEWS

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE
ELMWORTH, Sept. 2.—Over forty friends and relatives came to wish Miss May Stewart of Elmworth a long and happy married life in a most enjoyable shower that was given for her by Miss Beesie Miller, also of Elmworth, last Wednesday, August 30. May is one of our popular young girls and she is to be a September bride.

The living-room table was laden with gifts of all sorts and some very interesting little notes were attached to each. May thanked each and everyone in her most charming manner.

We all wish this young couple much happiness in their new adventure.

Rev. Arthur F. Throver, B.A., holds his first service in the school-house at Elmworth. Everyone welcome. See The Herald-Tribune for the date.

Most of the grain cutting is finished around here. Only one or two more cuts with a small field of grain standing when the rain came. Light frost was reported in this district and some slight damage done to potatoes and other garden vegetables.

MORE WELLS TO BE DRILLED
Wilfred is the next one to have a well, also Joe Dewey, Steve Lefkovich and F. Stier. Mr. Johnson has given up hope of returning to his home at Valhalla.

Jack having binder trouble.

Hank visiting at Grants. Come again, Hank.

Babe and Doris and the Smokes away after blueberries.

Mrs. C. Lingrell visiting at Frames.

Dorothy and Bettie May sending a little gift to the bride-to-be.

Thelma looking over the old school grounds.

Happy birthday, Rose Marie D.

Lila-Jo away for an overnight visit at Marie's.

Congratulations to the two newspapers on their partnership. This way we get all the news.

That's all.

ARE ALWAYS PRACTICAL

Chinese Straightened Out Wedding Tangle Without Any Trouble

Here is an amusing story which shows that in spite of civil war and westernization the Chinese retain their ancient sense of the practical.

Two Chinese brides were being conveyed in the traditional sedan chairs to their husbands' homes. On the way they were overtaken by a storm and brides and bearers took shelter in a neighboring tea-house.

When they came out, the brides entered the wrong chairs. The bearers did not notice the error, because the brides were heavily veiled.

It was only when the brides reached their homes where the husbands had prepared a feast for the relatives that the mistake was discovered.

Then a family council took place. As it was established that all four families were of equal financial and social status, it was decided that what fate had ordained must be accepted. With general acquiescence the each husband then kept the wrong bride.

No Place Like Home
"And what made you become a night heron, grandpa?"
"Well, with a wife and nine kids, I couldn't get near the fire at home."

THE LIGHTER SIDE

Oh! Samuel
"If there ever was a person for coming the acid and talking sarcastic, it's her. But yesterday I told her off proper," said Mrs. Maggie.

"You did, dearie? And what did you say?" inquired her neighbor.
"Don't be a bitter-bug," I says to her, "don't you be a bitter-bug."

We'd Both Be Mad
A man entered a public-house in the old country and called for a glass of whisky. He drank it and was about to walk out when the landlord stopped him. "Here, sir," he cried, "you haven't paid for that whisky you had."

"What's that you say?" asked the customer.
"I said you haven't paid for that whisky."

"Certainly I did," said the customer. "Well, then, what's the good of both of us paying for it?"

Maternal Instinct
The captain of an Atlantic liner was being pestered by a woman passenger who kept asking him what were the possibilities of seeing a whale.

"Don't forget to let me know as soon as one appears," she reminded him for about the tenth time.

"But, madam," asked the harassed skipper, "why are you so eager to see a whale?"

"It's the biggest desire of my life to see a whale blubber," she told him. "I think it must be so impressive to watch such an enormous creature crying."

Contemporary Model
An artist had just read a story through and was about to begin illustrating it for a magazine.

"I say," he said to his wife, "this story is supposed to have happened in 1934. Now, what were dresses like five years ago?"

His wife threw him a bitter glance. "She mine!" she retorted.

A Cricket and a Vice
Two women were sitting at an open window. One was listening to a church choir practising across the way. The other was listening to the noise of crickets.

The first one said, "How loudly they sing tonight!"
And the other said, "Yes, and they tell me they do it with their hind legs."

To Them That Have . . .
"I'm glad to find you as you are," said the old friend. "Your great wealth hasn't changed you."

"Well," replied the candid millionaire, "it has changed me in one thing. I'm now eccentric where I used to be vulgar, and delightfully witty where I used to be rude."

Strange Indeed!
"I've found the umbrella you missed at the wedding. I got it from the lost property office."

"Thank you, thank you. But how strange! I never went there."

Canada was the only Empire source of any importance for carrots imported into the United Kingdom in 1938, supplying 2,634 cwt.

Boy Learns Lesson When Chased Up Tree By Bear

CHERRY POINT, Aug. 31.—Alvin Starnes, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Starnes of Cherry Point, is a much wiser boy since Wednesday morning of last week.

With a party of young folks he went over to the river to bid "bon voyage" to Don Streeper and Al Oban, who were leaving for the outside.

As the raft floated away from the landing Don called to him that a bear was up a tree on the flat above him. Naturally Alvin wanted to see and climbed up on the flat. He no sooner was up than he heard an angry growl and with that saw the bear charge him. He never stopped to question but took a flying run for a huge birch tree and up he went with the bear climbing as fast as he did right behind him, growling and slashing at the boy's feet. Alvin kept kicking at the bear, hoping thus to dislodge it, but to no avail—the bear was there to stay. Taking out his belt knife and using it like a dagger, Alvin attempted to strike a vital spot. After the boy had drawn blood several times, the bear climbed down, but sat watchfully on the hillside beside the tree every time Alvin changed his position, up the tree went the bear.

Help finally came in the person of William Tottman, who killed the animal. Mrs. Margaret Springer had driven back to the ranch for help. Alvin by this time was a wee bit exhausted from his labors. He says: "The guy that says a mother bear will run away and leave her yearlings when a person is around—is full of prunes."

CHERRY POINT

PEOPLE—AND BEARS—ABOUND PICKING CHOKECHERRIES

CHERRY POINT, Aug. 31.—Raspberries on the hill flat have been very plentiful and everybody and his brother have been busy picking berries. Owing to the late rains a large crop of late raspberries of a very good quality have been harvested, so we are doubly thankful for the rain. And now it's chokecherries. People—and bears—abound in the chokecherry bushes on the flats.

CLAYHURST CHILDREN DID WELL AT DOE CREEK

Clayhurst school children did very well at the Doe Creek School Fair and are to be congratulated on their excellent work. And our hats are certainly off to Miss Peggy Cuthbert, their teacher.

We are only sorry that Cherry Point school pupils were not able to take part, but we have hopes for another year.

Mrs. Hugh Fraser was the guest of Mesdames Streeper of Streeper Flats for a few days last week. "Cassie" rode in on horseback.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clay and family are back once more from the Sunny South. We are told they will make this their home once more. The old slogan goes evidently: "He who drinks of the waters of the mighty Peace will always return." Welcome back, Carl and Kay.

The bridge at the ferry landing crossing Moose Creek is now completed, once more enabling motor traffic, etc., to enter Clayhurst and Cherry Point districts.

The Maxwell family, accompanied by G. Rima, journeyed to Sweeney Creek last Monday for blueberries and are not back yet. So "thar" blueberries in them thar hills."

Miss Ingledew, van driver from Pouce Coupe, was the guest of Nurse Burke last Friday evening and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Godman, accompanied by Nurse Burke, drove to Doe River to the School Fair.

WHITBURN NEWS

ANOTHER FAMILY GONE

WHITBURN, Aug. 29.—The Whitburn community has lost one more family for the time being at least. Mrs. W. Faulstich and children have left with Stanley Faulstich for the Flin Flon, where Stan has been working for the past few years. They travelled in a new "Chevy" car and left about a month ago.

Wesley Faulstich went out to Penitence, B.C., to see his mother before she died, and has been in poor health for some time and is recuperating from a nervous near-breakdown, brought on mostly by worry through our wonderful economic system and the benevolence of the present governments, which persist in refusing to give worthy citizens either work or assistance. A little work or a few dollars at the proper time, as in this case, in many instances would save a great amount of distress and suffering.

GET 17 BUSHELS TO ACRE

Well, the weather has broken very badly at last—just when everyone was ready to start threshing. However, the Solomon family got busy yesterday and had their wheat threshed, J. G. Taylor doing the job. Some of the wheat turned out 17 bushels to the acre, which is very good considering the long dry spell we had. There are some real nice crops in the district, and some that are not so nice.

BEAR STEAKS FOR DINNER

There has been quite an epidemic of bear slaying recently. Last week Roy Keyser shot one just in the nick of time, as he only wounded the bear with his first shot and it got rather close before he fired the second. Peter Roseback drove a cub bear into the stable and clubbed it to death with a singletree. And last Sunday evening Russell Cramer shot and killed another bear which was busy eating wheat off a stack. This bear was good and fat, and as meat has been scarce, some of the people are trying bear steak. I can't say I care a great deal for it.

HIGHWAY NEARLY COMPLETED
The highway to Dawson Creek is about completed but for a few culverts, and I believe all the culverts are in on this end, where they were badly needed.

HAYSEEDS KNOW HOW TO PLAY BALL

The Fire Ranger boys had two games of ball here a few Sundays ago and came off second best. They found out that some of these hayseeds back in the bush are not so slow when it comes to ball.

UNION NEEDED

Rev. C. E. Fisher of Grande Prairie was in last Sunday to see about a supply after Mr. Currie leaves in September. Mr. Fisher promised to do his best but was not sure that a man could be found. Now it seems to me that if the organized churches would take a tip from The Herald-Tribune and combine their resources of men and money, there need be no outlying district without a religious service in all of Canada every Sunday. That was the idea of the union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches fifteen years or so ago. But like the U.G.G. and the Pool, some of the big wigs were going to lose their jobs or be demoted, so there is no union—at least so far as the U.G.G. and Pool are concerned. As to the churches, they are, in a great many cases, duplicating their work. It is an outstanding opportunity for demonstrating real Christianity and the application of the Golden Rule.

LOOKING FOR POLL CLERK

There must be an election in the office of a secretary for the Independent, Liberal, Conservative, what have you was in the district last week looking for a poll clerk for Whitburn poll. We are mostly all C.C.F. here, but nearly all of us could act as clerks, as some of us have done it before.

I most heartily congratulate The Herald-Tribune on amalgamation. I have often wondered why it was not done years ago. There is not much excuse now for any family in the Peace River not having a first-class local paper in their home every week. The Herald-Tribune in my opinion is the best weekly local paper I have seen so far. I think if the editor can see his way clear to keep up the form of free discussion of matters of interest by anyone caring to do so—up to a limit, of course—it will make the paper of real value to the community as a whole. But if the paper is going to be dictated to by the big business men of the larger towns, why a lot of country people will not want it. So, fellow citizens, it is up to us to support our editor and paper in a real effort to make the paper a real independent weekly.

Mr. J. G. Taylor has purchased a Ford roadster of not too young a vintage, but it looks good to go places. So girls, be careful.

TIP FOR EDITORS

The editor of a Kansas paper says he picked up a Winchester rifle one day recently and started up the street to return it to its owner. The delinquent subscribers got it into their heads he was on the warpath and a number of them met insisted on paying him what they owed him. On his return to the office he found a load of hay, 15 bushels of corn, ten bushels of potatoes, a load of wood and a barrel of turnips had been brought in.

Wine is gradually replacing vodka as Russia's favorite drink.

A half-ton load can easily be carried by a two-humped camel.

SEES GREAT CHANGE IN GRANDE PRAIRIE AND DISTRICT SINCE 1915

Colin Jebb of Oakland, California, who was visiting his brother, George, in the Wembley district for about three weeks, left for home on Friday's train.

In conversation with The Herald-Tribune reporter at the Grande Prairie station, Mr. Jebb said that he visited this district in 1915, the year before the railway reached Grande Prairie. Before leaving Oakland he made up his mind to get some rabbits and bag a few coyotes, which were very plentiful in the Peace River country in 1915, "but," he added, "the country has become too civilized and I have been disappointed in this respect."

The visitor noted great changes in Grande Prairie and district since his first visit.

PLANET NAMED DANZIG

The German Astronomical Society announced that planet No. 1,419, an asteroid, would bear the name "Danzig." The wish was expressed that the Free City "may always stand under a lucky star." The discovery of "Danzig," one of the minor planets, has been attributed to Dr. Reinhold Heideberg.

"A clever man would never think of being rude to his wife."

"Clever men haven't got wives."

Where water is easy to get, we are apt to forget the importance of it in the lives of animals and plants. To produce a bushel of ear corn requires about 13 tons of water, and a ton of alfalfa hay requires something like 86 tons of water.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Raymond Beck, who passed away Sept. 6, 1936.

One precious to our hearts has gone,
The voice we loved is stilled;
The place made vacant in our home
Can never more be filled.

We cannot know why sorrow came,
But in the unseen land
Where sad partings are no more,
Someone we'll understand.

Ever remembered by Dad, Mother and Sister.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

IT'S FAIR TIME

It's Fair time! Take your camera with you.

SEPTEMBER is fair time and I'll wager that mighty few of you have given any thought to this angle of snapshotting. Right? Honestly, the fall fair or exhibition offers more possibilities for snapshotting than space will permit telling about. There's the side-show band with its battered instruments letting forth loud blasts of discordant music. And there are the not so clean-looking vendors of dolls, trick gadgets, balloons and various other things of questionable value. Everywhere you turn is a subject for good human interest pictures.

But let's look toward the more serious side of the fair—the exhibits, for instance. By making intelligent use of your camera you can snap record pictures that may later prove invaluable. Then there is the judging of cattle, sheep, horses and hogs. If the judging is done in an open-air ring you can get the picture of the winner of the blue ribbon with any camera—box type or folding.

In taking such pictures, or any picture, as far as that is concerned, don't just look in the finder and snap the first thing you see. If the animal being judged has any unusual markings, manage to get to a place near the ring where these markings show up the best in your finder. Try, too, to avoid unattractive backgrounds such as telephone poles, wires or sheds.

Among the innumerable picture possibilities at the fair you will surely want to take some action pictures and a fair isn't complete without the thrill of horse racing whether they feature the veteran driver proudly seated in his sulky or the young, dare-devil jockey.

Snap a picture of the start of the race as the drivers or jockeys maneuver their horses to the barrier or starting post and by all means take your position at the turn of the track as the horses dash perilously around the curve and into the "home stretch."

Remember this, however. If you do not have a camera with a very fast shutter, say one that will operate at 1/500 of a second or faster, don't try to snap a rapidly moving object as it whizzes directly across the lens of the camera or direct line of vision. Your chance of getting a good, sharp picture is much greater if you catch your subject at an angle of about 45 degrees. It's always better to play safe than to take a chance and perhaps get a blurred picture. Load your camera and take along plenty of extra film on that eventful day when you are "off to the fair."

Gateway... EAST AND WEST

Canada's Progress Begins on the map of all the Provinces. Each offers a home market for the products of the others and this interchange of goods and money benefits all Canada and builds the Dominion as a National entity.

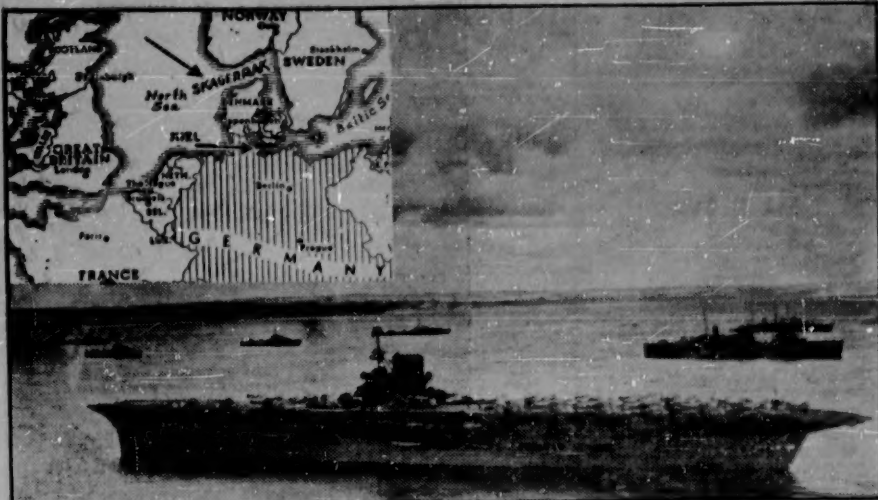

Winnipeg lies in the middle of the North American Continent; midway between the Arctic and the Gulf of Mexico, and the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Four great railways converge upon her, as did the historic roads leading to Rome. Her immense railway yards cover miles of tracks and sheds. Manitoba has been always before the eyes of the world—first as a romantic frontier, then as the possessor of fabulous wealth, then as the home of an industrious population that wrested from the soil, the lakes, the forests, and the mines, an immense annual income. In 1936 she produced $234,000,000 in her varied activities; agriculture, mining, forestry, trapping, fisheries (don't forget her Lake Winnipeg that measures 8,500 square miles), exporting a million and a half tons of these various commodities, which include pulpwood, dressed beef, and newsprint, to home and foreign markets. An amazing record! She has 80,000 registrations for motor vehicles and machines of all kinds, and 35,000 miles of highways and roads, of which she is surfacing additional miles every year. Tourists in motor cars and by train are coming in increasing numbers to see for themselves this great country. Visit her yards. See wheat, all other grains, cattle (alive and as dressed beef), pulpwood, newsprint—many other products for which hungry mouths of men and machinery wait in the industrialized East. See the tons of British Columbia fruits and salmon being unloaded for Manitoba's own consumption. Thus, the sale of Manitoba's products allows her to purchase those of sister provinces. THE BEST OF THE WEEK'S INTERESTING NEWS PICTURES

While the tension in Europe rose to the breaking point the Home Fleet and the Reserve Fleet of the Royal Navy under command in the North Sea. Reports from London, as expected, state that the British Navy had already closed the entrance to the Baltic Sea as Britain did in 1914 when the German Navy was completely bottled up. This picture, taken somewhere off the coast of Scotland, shows some of the ships of the Home Fleet, with the aircraft carrier, H.M.S. Ark Royal, in the foreground, during manoeuvres last week. The map shows the entrance to the Baltic Sea at Skagerrak.

"It must be quite puzzling to all the sweet young brides to read about 'bread flour' and 'pastry flour' and 'cake flour'. But isn't really confusing. . . not when you learn from experience that Purity Flour is all of these in one. Yes, Purity Flour is a wonderful flour for bread. And it is equally wonderful for all kinds of lovely cakes and pies and pastries. Just use it for making Flaky Pastry with Purity Flour, and you will be rewarded with a flakiness and a distinctive flavor that will win you the approval of all your guests."

3 cups Purity Flour 1 cup shortening
by teaspoon salt 1 cup cold water MIX: 1 cup flour with salt, and cut in with shortening, until mixture is like dry meal; add water gradually, and mix thoroughly, using less than 1 cup of water if porridge is desired. Turn out on board covered with sifted flour. Roll to 1/4-inch thickness.
5. Spread remaining shortening on rolled dough.
Roll dough over 3 times and roll again to required thickness. Always keep dough at handy stages. A dough kneader or roller will save time and effort. 6. Bake in hot oven 475 degrees. (If richer pastry is desired, use half butter and half shortening or more shortening.)

"Substance" is the subject of Lesson - Sermon at all Christian Science churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is John 6:27. The Scriptural citations are: "answered and said Jesus: 'I am the bread of life; but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God'" (Mt. 4:4). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "The Science of Jesus is the triumph of spiritual over material beliefs about life, soul and intelligence, and the multitudinous errors growing from such" (p. 43).

As in previous years, Toronto Boy Scouts acted as ushers on the grandstand at the Canadian National Exhibition, rounded up lost children and rendered many other forms of service.

The friendly reception given by the Scouts of London, Ontario, to a troop of American Scouts from Texas at the time of the King's visit is credited by The London Free Press with bringing a number of Texas tourists into western Canada.

"Eagle Chief" is the new name of Sir Percy Everett, Deputy Commissioner of Imperial Headquarters, who is touring Canada. The name, an acknowledgment of his membership in the western branch of the Scouts, was ceremonially conferred upon the Scout Commissioner by Chief Sampson in full ceremonial dress, at a ceremony held at the Hotel Macdonald, Sylvan Lake, near Edmonton. Forming a background for the campfire ceremony were the 100 Scouts and a large number of Scouts dressed as young Indian boys. The name Eagle Chief presumably was suggested by the fact that Sir Percy slid down to the lake from the skies in a plane, and left by the same Eagle-like means.

Cobalt's Scout Safety Traffic Patrol
Boy Scouts of Cobalt, Ontario, largely make up the Junior Safety Patrol which goes on traffic duty each day under Chief of Police Pidgeon to protect children going to and from school. The patrol wear white cross-belts supplied by the Kiwanis Club.

—The Calgary Herald.

The Boy Scout movement upholds law and order; the development of character; the development of the way of thought implied in such words as fairness, democracy and Christianity.

Germany. For that reason the Boy Scout movement is now to be abolished in Bolivia and replaced with military training of all Bolivian boys and girls between 15 and 20.

That does not worry the Scout movement. It has no intention of deviating from the lines it has followed for over 75 years, which have made it the youth of over 30 countries all over the world (almost 100,000 in Canada alone; a million in the United States).

It may be enough for the youth of Germany and Italy (and now of Bolivia), but it is not enough for the Scout movement, which is truly international in its composition and outlook.

Just how international has been shown by the great Jamboree in England, Holland and Switzerland where Scouts from China, Texas, In-meeting ground. Scouts from Germany and Italy used to attend these Jamborees in the pre-Hitler days. In the pre-Hitler days, too, it was common for English Scouts to go touring in Germany, where they were royally welcomed. But no more.

It is not, you will note, that Scouting has died in these countries; the nature of the movement is to grow vigorously. It has been abolished by official decree. Because something was wrong about the movement? Or because something was wrong about the country which abolished it? The answer stands out with unmistakable clarity.

Daily During The King's Visit

Throughout the period of the visit of Their Majesties to Canada this summer Scouts of the 19th Hamilton Ontario, Troop each morning raised the Union Jack on the flagpole in Gore Park, in the centre of the city. A bugle note drew the attention of passing citizens to the ceremony and many halted and stood at attention or removed their hats.

As annually for some years, the proclamation concerning National Fire Prevention Week published in The Canada Gazette includes a section calling upon Scout leaders to give instructions to their boys in the best means of cooperating with municipal fire departments.

"To the heart glow for thee, the valley of the shadow is like sunrise on the sea; her children arise and call her blessed; her husband also and he praiseth her."

Born at Waupaca, Wisconsin, on December 28, 1858, the second child of Adam and Eliza Ballard, Mrs. South spent the early years of her life there. When it is considered that she was a direct descendant of those early pioneers who stepped aboard the Mayflower and left England to escape religious persecution, one knows that almost the first words she learned were simple prayers, and her faith in God was so well founded and so sure that on her sixteenth birthday she was baptized through a hole in the ice in the Wisconsin River. In this faith she lived all her life.

On March 30, 1880, she was united in marriage to John M. South. Shortly after their marriage they moved to what is now Minnesota and later to North Dakota. So she began her life as a pioneer.

To the union were born eight children, five girls and three boys. Two sons and one daughter pre-deceased her. The remaining children are: Mrs. S. McAusland and Mrs. F. R. Smith, Granddaughters; Mrs. Bennett, Goodwill, Sask.; Mrs. Ralph Price, Kilkistat, Washington; and Claude M. South, Cass Lake, Minnesota.

In 1904 the family moved to Millford, Sask., where they resided until 1910, when they moved to Edmonton. On February 1, 1911, they started over the long trail for the Peace River country with S. McAusland, arriving at their destination on April 1, after an adventurous trip, and it was only a matter of weeks until Rev. A. Forbes held services in their home. Mrs. South immediately identified herself with Christian work, if not in her own church, then with any other that needed her help.

Swiftly the years sped on, bringing their joys and sorrows, until war broke out in 1914. September, 1915, she saw her son and son-in-law sign up for active service overseas. It was characteristic of this daughter of a Civil War veteran that she bid them go, "And God be with you and keep you."

In 1932 Mrs. South was stricken with arthritis, but she would not give up and kept on her feet until January, 1933, when she fainted and was taken to her bed unconscious. For months she suffered untold agony, and it seemed as though she must pass on at any moment.

During her long illness she kept her faith in God, and her sweet, sunny disposition remained the same. The death of her son, Lloyd J., in 1934 was a heavy blow.

Three years ago she joined her husband at Grande Prairie, where they have since resided. Although unable to walk or leave her home, she made many new friends and her influence reached farther than she ever dreamed.

A paralytic stroke brought her beautiful and useful life to a close. Her husband and two daughters were with her when the end came, also Mrs. Frank Crumney and Mrs. Cal. Campbell.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all those who during the long illness of our dear wife and mother have helped her to bear her cross and cared for her, also those who since her death have been so kind and for the many beautiful flowers.

John M. South.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Smith.

his drive on the next hole and had to play his ball out with his putter left-handed. This cost him another hole. The next three holes were halved. Duncan won the 23rd with a birdie against a par. The next two holes were halved, making Ford two up at the end of the third round.

Ford got a beautiful drive straight down the middle about 230 and his opponent about 230 to the left of the fairway. Ford made a splendid maulie stroke and was on the green about eight feet from the pin; Duncan was over the green, but laid his third inside of his opponent about three feet from the cup. Ford sank his putt for a birdie against a par, making him three up.

The 20th was halved with fives. It looked like the match was all over at this stage, but Duncan bore in and showed that he had the fighting heart and squared the match, winning the next three holes with a birdie and two pars, with four holes to go.

Both players played par golf on the next three holes.

Going home at the 36th, Duncan had still the honor which he held from the 30th tee. He dubbed his drive about 120 yards, and Ford was down the middle about 230. Duncan played his second, but failed to reach the fairway, and Ford was out in the middle. Duncan played but was short with his third and Ford was pin high to the left of the green.

Duncan's fourth just reached the sand and Ford pitched his dead about three feet from the cup. Duncan had good weight to the cup but was off line about eight inches, and Ford sank his putt. And thus ended the final for the open championship of the Peace River District.

Heartily congratulations, Bob. Both men played championship golf. Ford never was down at any stage of the match.

Here are the cards:

First Round
Ford	353 455 455-39
Duncan	443 455 545-39
Second Round
Ford	543 444 442-37
Duncan	552 544 554-39
Third Round
Ford	453 545 455-40
Duncan	463 545 355-40
Fourth Round
Ford	354 454 445-38
Duncan	453 344 446-37

At the 19th Hole

Promptly at 8 a.m. Sunday, A. R. McMillan, drawn against George Duncan, drew off the first tee starting the men's championship flight in the Peace River District Open Golf Tournament. The match ended 2 and 1 in favor of Duncan.

C. G. Butchart won from Bob Waddell and lost to Duncan, 2 and 1.

Several matches went the extra hole route, the honors for the longest match going to A. R. McMillan and Gordon Orr in the consolation of the championship flight. McMillan had Orr down 3, but the match was not settled till the 21st hole was completed. McMillan won out.

Francis Donald put up a hard fight against Bob Ford in the fours of the championship flight before admitting defeat, 2 and 1.

Pro. "Sandy" Stevenson, says that there is a great improvement in golf in the Peace River country since eight years ago, when 54 for nine holes was the low medalist score. "Sandy" says he can well remember the time when he lost a brand new ball on the middle of the fairway on hole seven. That is the reason why it is named "dynamite," for there were lots of willows and stumps in those days.

Bob Ford, while playing in his match with "Chuck" Clark, came within three inches of making a hole-in-one at No. 7.

C. Schneider of Peace River was three yards short of getting a 300-yard drive on hole 5 while playing with Francis Donald.

F. J. Orme had to go an extra hole with D. Lankford before winning his match in the finals of the third flight.

Joe Dill of Dawson Creek says he is going to take his golf more seriously from now on, since coping the consolation in the third flight.

W. A. Aird, one of the travellers, said he has played in tournaments from coast to coast, but that this was his first time to get in the money.

T. M. Newton was playing his usual steady game and won from his younger opponent, Ken Crumney, in the finals of the first flight after a hard-fought battle.

The imports of apples from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and the United States, although slightly higher than in 1937, were still comparatively small.
